

BCGFA Crop Input Incentive Program 2022

Approved by BCFGFA Board of Directors, December 14, 2022

Amount of Incentive

- 250% of the 2022 annual BCFGFA membership fee, per eligible member.
- One incentive per eligible member.

One-Time Program

The Food Safety Incentive is a One-time incentive paid to financially assist the purchase of 2023 crop inputs, which will improve crop productivity and quality.

Eligibility

Eligibility based on:

- o BCFGFA regular (voting) membership as of December 14, 2022, and
- o BCFGFA membership for 2023 paid directly or through BCTFC grower account.

Payment

The incentive payment will be sent to the eligible grower, in the form of a cheque made out to the eligible growers' supplier of choice, indicated by the grower on the application form. The grower may then deposit the cheque to their account at the selected supplier. The program payments are expected to be made in February 2023.

Enrolment

an application form will be mailed to the grower (target mailing is late January, early February 2023).

The grower will return the completed form.

For growers that were members on December 14, 2022 and pay the 2023 BCFGFA membership through the BCTFC grower account, payment will be issued automatically upon receipt of the application form. The expected verification of BCTFC grower account payment of BCFGFA fees is expected in early February 2023.

For growers that were members on December 14, 2022 and pay the 2023 BCFGFA membership directly to the BCFGFA by cheque or on-line payment (<https://members.bcfga.com/>), the payment will be issued upon review of the application form and verification of BCFGFA member payment for 2023.

The BCFGFA reserves the right to change the terms and conditions of the 2023 Crop Input Incentive Program.
